Social DRAGON

"And as I say, er . . . you did say your name was Budge, didn't you, young man?" Miss Ellis lowered her lorgnette. "Yes'm," Budge stammered. Just then Joyce came dashing down the stairs to his rescue. "Oh, Aunt Henrietta, can you tell Budge about Uncle Bertie another time? We're late for the game and Budge's car isn't working just right." Aunt Henrietta Ellis raised her lorgnette to gaze critically at the beat up jalopy that leaned against the curb. Joyce hurried Budge out to the car.

It was their first date, though Budge had secretly admired the pretty sub-deb for a long time. "I'd like to hear more about your aunt's brother, Joyce," Budge said. "Oh, you will," laughed Joyce, "you're coming home to dinner after the game. It's one of the 'musts' for any boy I go out with." Budge slunk lower in the seat. He'd heard that Aunt Henrietta was a social dragon of no mean dimensions. That she guarded her niece against all who were not socially acceptable to her. He glanced at the chick by his side and mumbled, "Well, I guess it'll be worth it." Joyce smiled happily, "Oh, just wait until you hear about Uncle Bertie."

It was pretty awful. Budge realized shortly, that Joyce's aunt didn't approve of his car, that she hadn't "heard" of his family. His spirits sank as her aunt babbled on. He was startled out of his doldrums by a sharp, "Don't you think so, Budge?" He looked up, flustered, felt Joyce's light kick from across the table, and breathed with relief as she said, "Do tell Budge more about Uncle Bertie." He settled down gratefully as the monologue commenced. It seemed that Uncle Bertie was the wealthiest man in Australia, a true blueblooded aristocrat, and Aunt Henrietta was expecting him any day for an extended visit. "Then you'll see this town sit up and take notice," she finished triumphantly.

The evening bored on and when Joyce saw him to the door, she whispered, "Thank goodness for Uncle Bertie. We'll see about the prom."

Budge whipped home by way of his Uncle Jud's funeral parlor. And after negotiating to borrow a long, black limousine for the night of the prom, he felt that he might win Aunt Henrietta over after all.

The day came, and right after school Budge picked up the car and then stopped to collect his rented dinner jacket. As he dashed out of the shop, he stopped short. There, in the front seat, snoozed a beat and bedraggled old duffer. Budge slipped behind the wheel and joggled him. "Hey, wake up," snarled Budge. "Now, now young man, a little softness in your tone, if you please. Surely you wouldn't begrudge a gentleman a little nap." Budge was jolted; the grammar was perfect, the tone was humorous, but the guy still looked like a bum. "Who are you?" "The name's Bertram Ellis. I have a sister here in Crosdale. Also a young niece." Budge did a fast double take and then burst into gales of laughter. The old gentleman looked somewhat startled at first but when Budge said "I know your sister," he joined in the hilarity. "Is Henrietta still babbling that Social Register routine? Tut, I hope young Joyce won't be too upset when she finds out the truth." "Don't worry about Joyce," Budge said, "she's OK."

But Aunt Henrietta went into shock when the limousine drew up and Budge ushered Uncle Bertie from the car grandly. Joyce smiled and winked at Budge. That night they went to the prom in Budge's old jalopy. Joyce was still bubbling with laughter. "Uncle Bertie has jollied Auntie out of it a bit. I think she'll be normal from now on." She paused, "Uncle Bertie thinks you're pretty nice. So do I!" Budge smiled blissfully as she moved closer.

See How I Train You at Home in Spare Time for Good Pay Jobs in RADIO-TELEVISION

You Practice Broadcasting with Equipment I Send

As part of my Communications Course I send you kits of parts to build the low-power Broadcasting Transmitter shown at left. You use it to get practical experience putting this station "on the air," to perform procedures required of broadcasting station operators. An FCC Commercial Operator's license can be your ticket to a better job and a bright future. My course gives you the training you need to get your license. Mail coupon below. See in my book other valuable equipment you build and keep.

You Practice Servicing with Equipment I Send

Nothing takes the place of PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE. That's why NRI training is based on LEARNING BY DOING. You use kits of parts I furnish to build many circuits common to both Radio and Television. With my Servicing Course you build the modern receiver shown at right. You also build an Electronic Multitester which you can use to help fix sets while training at home. Many students make $10, $15 a week extra fixing neighbors' sets in spare time, starting soon after enrolling. I send you special booklets that show you how to fix sets. Mail coupon for 64-page book and actual Servicing Lesson, both FREE.

TRAINING plus OPPORTUNITY is the PERFECT combination. The sample lesson I send will prove to you that it is practical to keep your job while TRAINING right in your own home for better pay and a brighter future. My 64-page book should convince you that Radio-Television is truly today's field of OPPORTUNITY.

TELEVISION MAKING JOBS, PROSPERITY

Radio, even without Television, is bigger than ever. 115 million home and auto Radios create steady demand for service. 3000 Radio stations give interesting, good pay jobs to operators, technicians. NOW ADD TELEVISION. 25 million Television homes and the total growing rapidly. 200 Television stations on the air and hundreds more under construction. Color Television soon to be a reality. Government, Aviation, Police, Ship, Micro-wave Relay, Two-way Communications for buses, taxis, trucks, railroads are growing fields providing good jobs for men who know Radio-Television. All this adds up to good pay now, a bright future later for men who qualify.

START SOON TO MAKE $10, $15 A WEEK EXTRA

An important benefit of Radio-Television training is that you can start to cash in fast. Many men I train fix neighbors' sets, make extra money, starting soon after they enroll. Multitester built with parts I send helps locate and correct set troubles. Read at left how you build actual equipment that gives you practical experience, brings to life what you learn from my lessons.

MEN OF ACTION NEEDED MAIL COUPON TODAY

Act now to enjoy more good things of life. Get the benefit of my 40 years' experience training men at home. Take NRI training for as little as $5 a month.
